Supply List for students to bring: your favorite size flat brushes, a fan brush, water container, acrylic paints and a palette. Bring reference photos – or select one of Genes to use. Sketchbook and pen for notes.

Gene will supply small canvas boards for each day, spray bottles, a blow dryer and paper towels.

The workshop: While Gene paints in both oil and acrylic paints, we will work in acrylic paint to speed up drying time needed between transparent paint applications. Acrylic paint will be provided for oil painters who do not have acrylic paints available for themselves.

What you will Learn: How to paint with glazes and make your landscape paintings glow like the Old Masters! Two techniques will be covered: 1) Monotone underpainting then adding transparent layers of colors; and 2) Glazing your current painting style to harmonize hues and change values. The purpose of the class is to let you experiment with a new technique and not finish a completed painting.

Class Outline: Each day will start with a demo and finish the day with quick review.

Day 1: Create a monotone underpainting and add layers of transparent color.

Day 2: Make a painting in your current style and add glazes to enhance the image.

About Gene: Gene graduated with a BFA in 1980 and spent 45 years drawing and designing manufactured components for several different industries. Since 2017, retirement has allowed him to pursue art full-time. Painting, drawing, photographing references, visiting galleries, or viewing other artists online are among the daily activities he enjoys doing.
